ANNOUNCEMENT

PROF. W. B. HAYWARD authorizes us to announce that he is a candidate for the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction of the State of Kentucky, subject to the decision of the Democratic Convention, to be held at Louisville, May 10th, 1883.

HON. JESSE S. WILLIAMS authorizes us to announce that he is a candidate for re-election to the House of Representatives of the State of Kentucky. His candidacy is subject to the will of the Democrats of the county, whose support he respectfully solicits.

MR. J. H. WELLER authorizes us to announce that he is a candidate for Representative of Ohio county in the next Legislature of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

W. D. COLEMAN, Esq., authorizes us to say to the Democrats of Ohio county that he is willing to serve them as a Representative in the next General Assembly of Kentucky. His candidacy is subject to any action that may be taken by the Democratic party.

MR. C. G. KIMBLEY, of Owensboro, authorizes us to announce that he is a candidate, subject to the action of the Democratic party, for Representative of Ohio county in the next Legislature.

We are authorized to announce that RICHARD H. STEVENS, of Beaver Dam voting precinct is a candidate to represent Ohio county in the next Legislature of Kentucky. He was unanimously nominated and requested to make the race by the Greenback convention held in Hartford April 23, 1883, and having accepted the same he is now before the people and asks a due consideration of his claims.

PERSONALS

Persons in town having visitors or any other item they would like in this column would confer a favor if they would inform this office. The town is very large, but one hand can't get all over it every day and run a newspaper.

M. T. Roberts, editor of the Southern Progress, Bowling Green, is in town. Mr. C. A. Lawton, of South Carrollton, was town last week visiting relatives and friends.

W. J. Scott, Esq., representing the firm of Bridgeford & Co., Louisville, was in town this week.

Our genial friend and former citizen, Capt. Sam E. Hill, of Owensboro, spent a day or two here the past week.

Mr. L. C. Anderson, one of the old substantial citizens of the Whitesville vicinity, called on us Monday.

General John S. Williams, U. S. Senator, paid his numerous friends here a short visit Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. R. Vaughn accompanied Miss Nettie Duncan to her home at McHenry last Friday, returning Sunday evening.

J. W. Roach, Esq., representing the firm of Torian & Barbour, wholesale hat makers, Evansville, was in town last week.

F. M. Joplin, of Elizabethtown, was with us last week and although married, he was "courtin' a little" legal of course.

Mr. Thos. L. Collins, of Anderson county, representing a fine line of old Anderson county whiskeys was in town this week.

Mr. C. W. Daniel and wife Mrs. Samuel Christian and Mrs. Sallie Neighbors, of Rosine Neighborhood called to see us last Tuesday.

Col. W. H. Perkins, of Owensboro, was in town last week. As receiver of the Davies Circuit Court, he made a sale of some whisky at Cromwell Saturday.

Mr. Beverly L. Boyd, clerk of the Van North House, Rosine, accompanied by a charming young lady, in the person of Miss Nola Raymer, visited this office last Friday.

Mr. W. A. Gibson, of Caneyville, was in town a day or two last week visiting relatives and friends. He was accompanied by Mr. W. H. Smith, of Chillicothe, Ohio who for some time past has been dealing in timber at Caneyville. We had the pleasure of a call from them during their sojourn here.

—Rain, rainy, rainest.

—Call and see my stock of boots and shoes; bargains at Z. A. Rosenberg's.

—Coats of my own make for four dollars. V. P. ADDINGTON.

—James A. Thomas has made quite an addition in the appearance of his brick store by placing handsome show windows in front.

—Little Miss Hennie Guenther has placed us under lasting obligations to her for a basket of nice things to eat. Editors like to be remembered in that way.

—S. B. Bishop, assignee, has a large assortment of clothing, millinery goods, notions, dry goods, shoes, in fact all kinds of goods belonging to the dry goods trade, which must and will be sold at and even below wholesale cost to close out business. Call at once; you will find him in the post office building and can secure splendid bargains of him.

—Remember you can buy a good sewing machine with cover for $20 at Anderson's Bazaar.

—Mud, muddy, muddier, muddiest.

—You can buy a ladies' veil at V. P. Addington for five cents.

—Van May will be on trial tomorrow for insulting the Hon. John Jones, of the Elm Lick neighborhood.

—Mr. W. B. Hunter keeps a good boarding house on west side of public square in the Morris building. Call on him for good boarding at cheap rates.

—B. L. Hughes, formerly of Hardin county, is now at Beaver Dam engaged in the grocery business. He also keeps a stock of wines and liquors.

—The matrimonial market has been quite dull for the past week. The only transaction in that line was a bargain between A. J. Williams and Miss Loney.

—Thomas Foreman, one of the oldest colored men in Hartford, died on Sunday last after a painful illness of eight months. Uncle Tom was born in Bullitt county, Ky., in 1812, and was brought here many years ago.

—The "Office" saloon, A. T. Nall, proprietor, has been newly painted outside and inside, and furnished with a fine line of the purest and best whiskies, wines, beer, cigars and tobacco that the market affords. All wants you to come and see him.

—Mrs. Briggs has just received a large and handsome stock of late style hats, flowers, feathers, etc. Those wishing anything in millinery goods will do well to call at once, as she sells cheap for cash.

—Joseph W. Gore desires to inform the public that he has a first class saloon in the old Walker hotel building, where he has a full line of pure whiskies, liquors, cigars and tobacco for sale.

—The card of J. J. Layton & Co., wood carvers, Cincinnati, Ky., appears in this issue. They are responsible parties, do good work and Mr. Layton has had large experience in that line of business.

—F. O. Austin, dealer in stoves, tin ware, hardware, saddlery, &c., and family groceries, is one of the live, energetic business men of Beaver Dam. He keeps good goods and sells at fair prices. Our readers will find him a reliable merchant.

—Go to the "Mint" Saloon, Hartford, Ky., for the purest and best liquors to be found in the county. They claim to keep none but the best, and ask you to visit their Sample room and be convinced that what they say is true.

—Henry Pace, the tonsorial artist, of Hartford, is well prepared with a full corps of assistants to shave you, trim your hair, shampoo you, black your heads or brush you up promptly and in good style.

—The reason that Klein & Bro., of this place, sell more stoves than any or all other dealers in Ohio county is because they sell none but the best and sell them cheaper than anyone else. They sell their tinware, queensware and groceries the same way. Call on them and be convinced.

—That popular young man, Thos. L. Baird, is the gentlemanly clerk of the Hartford House, where he will be pleased to see his many friends relatives and acquaintances. The popularity of this house is not to be wondered at when we learn that R. R. Paxton is landlord and Thos. L. Baird clerk.

—We will thank the officers of the primary election of the voting precincts next Saturday to furnish the result to us at the earliest possible moment, so that our next issue may contain the relative strength of the various candidates for Representative. Please do not fail to do this favor for us.

—We regret to learn that Joshua P. Barnard, of the Point neighborhood, has the small-pox. He took it last Sunday, and was said to be very sick on Monday. His son John is recovering, also the two Kirtleys are getting well fast. The four cases above referred to are all they have had in that vicinity so far, and no deaths yet from it.

—The ladies interested in building a Baptist church in Hartford, will meet socially twice a month till further notice. Everybody is invited to attend. The object is to raise money for church purposes and each person attending is expected to contribute one dime. The first meeting will be held Saturday evening next at the residence of Mrs. W. F. Gregory, from 7 to 10, P. M.

—Had Kessinger, a would be preacher, came to the Schroeder school house neighborhood sometime last winter and married the widow Likens. Their course of true love did not run as smooth and placid as might be. So a few days ago they separated. One of the charges is that the Rev. Divine whipped some of his stepchildren very severely. He drew a pistol on her once or twice and the neighbors threatened to handle him and he fled.

—Hardin Wilson, of Caneyville, lost his two story frame building and contents last Wednesday. He had been insured and had recently changed buildings and had made application for insurance, but had laid it aside neglecting to forward it, and hence a total loss. We regret it exceedingly, for he is an excellent, deserving gentleman. Every person owning property should keep it insured constantly. It costs less than to take your own risks. You hardly miss the money paid out, and in case of loss you are not entirely ruined. Having made up your mind to insure, remember that we represent of a few of the most reliable companies, and will insure at as low rates as any good company can or will, and will insure you in such a way as to protect you. We have had twelve years experience in the business.

—Boy's, men's, youth's and children's clothing just received; low prices at Z. A. Rosenberg's.

—Just received from Hamburg, Germany, Newburg edgings, insertion, torchon laces, etc., cheap for cash.

—V. P. ADDINGTON.

—Dry goods, all styles and kinds at lower prices than anywhere in town. Z. A. Rosenberg.

—Born—To the wife of W. P. Leach, Liberty neighborhood, April 9, 1883, a son; mother and boy doing well.

—Remember that the Hartford Water Mill grinds every day in the week except Saturday, which is sharpening day.

—The funeral of Mrs. Annie Boswell will be preached at Mount Vernon church, this county, next Sunday, by Rev. R. C. Alexander assisted by Rev. G. J. Beau.

—The different departments of the College are preparing to give entertainments at the close of the session in June. Those anticipating attending may expect something rare.

—Hats, wool, fur and cassimere; straw any style for men, boys children and misses at Z. A. Rosenberg's.

—Miles Orton's show at Beaver Dam last Thursday, is the greatest thing among our fun-loving people, who anxiously await the arrival of the bill-wagon for the next one to come.

—We have engaged the services of the old and reliable carder, W. T. Johnson, as soon as the season opens we will be ready to card your wool in good style.

—J. R. & Wm. Phillips, Proprietors Water Mill.

—J. B. Eric & Bro., of Beaver Dam, are live, energetic business men, and know just how to keep a good grocery, which they do to perfection. They came from New Albany, Ind., to Beaver Dam not long ago.

—L. F. Woerner has been working upon, repairing and improving the sales of other people for a long time, and thinks it is about time said people were helping his soul a little, which they can best do by paying him what they owe him.

—The Cumberland Presbyterian church of this place have secured the services of Rev. Willis Smith, of Owensboro, as pastor. He will hold regular services on the second Sabbath night of each month. Mr. Smith is an eloquent, entertaining divine.

—Wesley M. Warden came to town last week and raised a disturbance with his former wife and her daughter. He was arrested for breach of the peace and indecent exposure of person. For the first he was fined $10. His trial for the other offense is set for to-morrow.

—W. E. Grady, of Muhlenberg county, who met with a serious misfortune last fall requiring the amputation of one of his legs, is out again and visiting friends in this county for the first time since the accident. He was here Monday. He was formerly a citizen of the county.

—Married—At the residence of Jos. Leach, Ohio county, by Rev. J. W. Keown, Sam H. Keown to Miss Nancy M. Leach. Sam, old, boy, may she through adversity as well as prosperity cling to you with true womanly affection, just as her maiden name would indicate.

—The residence of Peter May at McHenry was consumed by fire last Thursday about 1 o'clock A. M. Mr. May had gone to the show at Beaver Dam, and the family had gone to spend the day with a neighbor. Nothing was saved but two pillows. The property was insured in the Royal Insurance Company.

—Joseph A. Hudnall, Esq., living in this county near Rochester, Butler county, has a hen's egg at his house that has a red mark upon it about three-fourth of an inch long and one-fourth of an inch wide, and in this mark are plainly visible four letters of the alphabet, D B S L. Mr. Hudnall says the letters are as plain as the print on our paper. He promises to send it to us soon, that all our visitors may see it.

—The Practical Farmer, of Philadelphia, makes a very liberal offer in our columns this week. The paper is an old, well established Agricultural paper, and well worth the subscription price, aside from the opportunity given to obtain an improved farm or an elegant engraving. We would advise our readers to send for a sample copy and see the list of farms.

—James M. Brown, of Taylortown vicinity, got badly hurt last Wednesday by his horse running off with him in a spring-wagon. No bones were broken and Drs. Strother and Westerfield, who were called in, think he will recover.

—Later—We learn that Mr. Brown was no better on Saturday last, and fears are entertained that he will not recover.

—Our town was the scene of a little combat one evening last week. John S. Moore was in town tolerably full of bug juice and began a quarrel with Wade Daniel. Wade evaded and avoided him for a time, but forbearance ceased to be a virtue, and when Moore came on to him with a chair, he got hold of an ax-handle and he Wade(d) in on him. He at once surrendered to the County Judge, was tried and acquitted. Moore has not been tried yet.

—Beaver Dam stirred at an early hour last Thursday, for Orton's great combination show was to be there, and sure enough it did come. And for the inclement day, it was a tremendous crowd that greeted him. Mr. Orton is a gentleman greatly respected in Hartford, having spent the winter here. Quite a number from town went out to show their appreciation of his renowned show, that proved to be all it is said to be. One of the most ludicrous and enjoyable features of the show was that of a clown personating a drunken man, and he did it to such perfection that the policeman went in to arrest him, but he was too much for the officer. Quite a compliment to the clown, but a joke on the police.

—Jeans, cheap at Z. A. Rosenberg's.

—Pike's Toothache Drops cure in one minute.

—Mr. John C. Harrell brought us a scorpion, Monday, with a forked tail. It is the first one of the kind we ever saw.

—Horses are commanding a good price. Thomas Greer sold yesterday to T. H. Baird, of No Creek, a good horse for $110.

—Rev. J. S. McDaniel will preach next Sabbath, April 29th, 1883, at Hopewell church at 11 o'clock A. M., and at Rockport at night.

—Jones and Austin, living in the vicinity of Horton, were brought before his honor, Judge C. W. Massie, last Saturday for assaulting Van May. The case resulted in fining Jones $15 and Austin $10.

—The wife of Frank Rowe, Centerville, died last Saturday morning of typhoid fever. She had partially recovered, but a relapse ensued causing death. Deceased was a daughter of Reuben Leasure.

—Again we repeat. We will not publish letters or communications that do not contain the true name of the writer. We will publish any fictitious name suggested, but we must have the real name of the correspondent as an act of good faith.

—Died—In the vicinity of Barnett's creek, Sunday morning, April 22, 1883, of lung disease, Mrs. Newcomb, wife of Thomas Newcomb. Her funeral took place Monday, at 10 o'clock, conducted by Rev. James C. Stewart, after which her remains were interred in the grave yard at Cornelius Hoover's.

—Capt. Sandusky will please accept our sincere thanks for the basket of early, fresh vegetables sent the other day. The Captain is the prince of hotel proprietors, and his name is a house hold pet with all epicureans. He was just returning from his weekly trip to the city for supplies when he so kindly remembered us.

—While in Litchfield we had the pleasure of meeting C. J. Yager, Esq., editor Southern, formerly of this place. He reports his paper in a flourishing condition, has moved to a new office and expects a new press and outfit soon. Litchfield has a live, energetic people, and are proud of their county paper and show their appreciation.

—Mrs. Editor wishes to tender her cordial thanks to Judge and Mrs. McBeath for courtesies extended her while on a recent visit to their town Litchfield. Also to Mr. Eddie Brown, County Court Clerk. Eddie is one of those handsome, whole-soul fellows, and is lionized among the girls, for his black, sparkling eyes speak volumes of love to each.

—Died—In Hartford, Ky., April 20, 1883, "Billy" Orton. He was related to the Miles Orton family. When Orton's show last Hartford in the spring of 1882, Billy was in feeble health, and was left in the care of Dr. Z. Wayne Griffin. Billy's health did not improve, and when he heard of Orton's show coming through the country and he not able to join them at Beaver Dam on the 19th, he died of grief. Billy Orton was a descendant of the Elk family.

—R. A. Anderson and G. B. Hocker, giving two or three miles north of town, had a controversy last Wednesday about some beef. Hocker claimed that Anderson owed him for 27 pounds of beef, which Anderson denied and refused to pay. Hocker insisted on payment of the beef, whereupon Anderson ordered Hocker to leave his premises, and hurried him up by stepping up and kicking him a little. Hocker had Anderson arrested for breach of the peace, and tried before his honor, Judge Massie last Monday, and fined $1. Anderson had a writ issued for Hocker which is set for trial next Friday. These gentlemen are both good citizens, and neighbors and their difficulty is much regretted by the citizens of that community.

—Taken up by P. R. Kelly, near the Hamilton Ford on South Panther creek in Ohio county, one pale-red and white steer, unmarked with crop and two splits in left ear. Appraised by me at $18.00 this 8th day of March 1883. J. P. MILLER J. P. O. C.

Notwithstanding another tremendous rain fell on Saturday night, raising Rough River eight feet in six hours, to-day the sun shines brightly, the breezes blow softly, the little birds are singing sweetly, everything and everybody is bright and cheerful, and we continue to quote the big bargains at —The letter from Buford, in this issue, from the wife of Rev. J. S. Coleman, D. D., speaks very highly of the Parkhurst washer and wringer, sold by Messrs. Taylor & Rhodes. Read it.

—Mr. Chapman Withdraws.

Editor Herald:

Having seen and conversed with a number of citizens from different parts of the county in the last few days, I am fully satisfied that, however different it might have been by a canvass on my part, as it now stands I have no chance for the nomination, unless it may be by some accidental turn in the nominating convention, and as I don't wish a nomination that would come to me by the dint of mere accident or chance, prudence would seem to dictate the withdrawal of my name from the contest, leaving the field open to those whose aspirations are greater and prospects better than mine. So, acting upon the general idea that discretion is the better part of valor, and cordially thanking my friends for their manifestations of confidence and great will toward me, I hereby withdraw my name from the contest as candidate for the Legislature with the sincere hope that the fortunate man may have experience, fidelity and sterling worth to enable him to look beyond the narrow limits of class legislation and see in all his acts the true interests of the whole people.

Rosine News.

Job and Caleb Wilson, sons of D. T. Wilson, were poisoned last Friday by eating pork rind. Dr. N. J. Rains, of this place, was sent for at once and by his skillful attention there's hopes of their recovery. J. J. TILFORD.

Profitable Poetry.

Your precious time you should not waste. But come at once to this great store. We please the most aesthetic taste. No one else will sell them lower.

We ask our friends, both young and old, to call and see this mammoth show. The half has never yet been told. The goods are selling wondrous low. Thos. Gilstrap, Exchange Emporium, Cromwell, Ky.

A Card.

I wish to say to the good people of Hopewell, that I regret exceedingly the inclemency of the weather on last Sabbath resulting in a disappointment to the congregation meeting there statedly. I was near the church, but the incessant rain and the counsel of friends as to the probability that no one would go, I remained in doors. And will further say, should there have been one soul brave enough to brook the difficulty and go only to find pastor absent and an empty church; come next Sabbath at 11 o'clock, rain or shine, I will meet you.

Yours, Respectfully,

JAS. S. MCDANIEL.
